Educators Tour Pamplin School

Pamplin Elementary School was host Tuesday morning to educators from Halifax county, here to see and discuss the "Open Space" classroom teaching procedures used in the Pamplin school. Adults from Halifax county included (from left): Mrs. Christine Powell, principal of Turbeville Elementary School; Dail Yeatts, Halifax county supervisor of public schools; Mrs. Lib Francisco, reading supervisor and Nat Brooks, mathematics supervisor. At the table are Darlene Smith (nearest camera) and (clockwise) Carolyn Chandler, Mitzi Baldwin, Robert Jackson and Dean Jamerson, Dean is holding a paper face attached to a wooden tongue depressor. This serves as a signal to a teacher when a student wants helps with a lesson. Seventy-eight 1st, 2nd and 3rd graders are taught in the area previously used for an auditorium. Fourth-fifth graders (52) have a similar open space plan and 52 sixth-seventh graders, also. Mrs. S. B. Waddell is principal.
